

I am opposed to allowing the use of cell phones on commercial airplanes while in flight. While safety issues are a concern, I feel this is a quality of life issue. I would not want to add the noise of many passengers shouting into their cell phones during a flight to the uncomfortable seats and cramped conditions those of us who fly frequently must endure on a regular basis.